

EBUKA PASCAL SOLOMON

Senior Graphic Designer | Brand Identity • Marketing Design • Packaging Design • Creative Direction

Professional Summary

Creative Graphic Designer with 11+ years of experience crafting impactful visual solutions across branding, marketing, packaging, and digital media. I specialize in turning ideas into strategic, visually compelling designs that help brands communicate clearly, connect with their audience, and stand out in competitive markets. My expertise spans brand identity, marketing collateral, packaging design, digital content, and creative direction — combining strong design fundamentals with a sharp eye for detail to keep every project consistent, functional, and visually polished.

Over the course of my career, I've worked with clients and teams across industries, managing projects from concept through final execution while hitting tight deadlines without compromising quality. My background in content evaluation and digital production has sharpened my ability to approach design challenges strategically, follow detailed briefs, and deliver work that aligns with real business goals. As a remote professional and freelancer, I thrive in collaborative environments while bringing the independence and discipline needed to manage multiple projects at once — driven by intentional, strategic design that elevates brands, engages audiences, and delivers measurable results.
